David Jack
Project Manager

Responsibilities

As Project Manager for Atlas Door and Hardware, David Jack works closely with customers and the Atlas team to coordinate projects from initial needs assessment and estimating through procurement, production, fabrication and installation.

David joined Atlas Door and Hardware in 2015 and has 12 years of commercial door and hardware experience. His previous positions include lead installer, service manager, project manager, sales and estimating, and service center sales.

David holds an OSHA 30-hour certification.

Areas of Expertise

David's extensive product knowledge of door and hardware lines, finishes, configurations, specifications and installation processes as well as hands-on experience helps ensure that Atlas projects have the correct materials and are promptly scheduled for installation or service.
